From the excerpt below, identify the underlined words as either a noun, adjective, verb, adverb, or pronoun and write them in the column on the reserve side.

Welcome to Wonderverse! We, Leo and Zoe, welcome you to the world where rivers bubble and the mountains fizz. However, we are worried today. We do not have the vital mineral called Sparklon to make The Fizz Mountain sparkle. We must quickly begin the quest to find the missing ingredient, Sparklon. When Sparklon mixes with vinegar, it vigorously releases gas that makes the Fizz Mountain sparkle.

Thanks to you, we discovered that if baking soda mixes with vinegar, it creates bubbles just like Sparklon. Zoe mixes the Sparklon with vinegar and adds it to the Fizz Mountain. She is excited to see the mountain bubble and sparkle again. We now warmly invite you to create your own Wonderverse with your science teacher in the lab. Before you return to Earth, would you like to come with us to see the sparkling Wonderverse?
